Sending Church: New Life Baptist Church, Chiang Mai, Thailand

For September & October 2021

Dear Friends,

As we see the tail end of summer there is much to be thankful for. Not least, how God continues to supply our needs through your kind giving and prayer support.

I am delighted to report that our ministries are going well and people's lives continue to be changed. Trinity Baptist Church is hosting its first Missions Conference next month under my guidance as the current pastor. Missions is the theme we are emphasizing in the run-up to the conference and we have members presenting a missionary of choice during the Sunday morning service. The emphasis has already generated conversations about the Gospel with some unbelievers. Please pray for fruit from this missions emphasis; that lost people ignorant of God's grace in and through Jesus Christ will hear, and, equally as important, that our regulars will grow in greater understanding of God's love for sinners.

The Saturday morning ministry on the town square is progressing well. I have had some great opportunities to give the Gospel and one gentleman, Tahir, has started coming to our services (he is on the right in sunglasses in the photograph). Please pray for him as he suffers from dyspraxia; a neurological disorder that effects concentration and memory. Another gentleman, Paul (in the blue jumper on the left) is suffering with Alzheimer's disease, so please, if you can remember, pray for him as well (and his wife Carol, an unbeliever).

We're looking forward to seeing some of the students from Brook House return this coming Sunday. I hope our missions emphasis will be an influence on them.

Just a quick update on Nattacha: she started her A Levels at a local Academy, after, (and I'm not sure if she'll appreciate me telling you this) after she received 5 grade As in her IGCSE exams. A chip off the old block as we say here in the UK! (Though, probably her mum's block to be honest). She's very motivated to learn but she is in for two tough years academically and I'm sure if you can give a little prayer support she will be very grateful.

We thank you all for making this ministry possible.

Kind regards,
Tom Britten
